I Bio

Rayim Clay is the project of Rahim Erbil. The first name comes from home: it is how his mother pronounced Rahim. Clay stands for the vulnerable part that stays warm beneath the surface.

Rahim writes and composes his own songs, and his works are registered with GEMA. In 2024 he released the ten-track album 2000 Floor under the name Chromyze. On Spotify this catalogue is still listed as Chromyze, on Apple Music as NIIO.

As Rayim Clay he tells his music in three chapters. The concept is called Chrome and Clay: a hard, mirrored shell with something soft underneath that needs protecting. The first EP, The Pour, has five songs: Better Late Than Never, Rollercoaster, Vroom Vroom, Wipe It and Santa Monica. The Fracture and The Alloy follow. The artist owns his masters.
